practicing in climbing in inflatable games when young. However, I would strongly advise you to participate in this bouncy being completely sober. It goes without saying that this increases your chances of winning considerably. Don't compete after eating all the stuff from the party like sausage, poutine and the other non-healthy food. Remember that law of gravity, do not you forget it when climbing. If you eat too much before playing you take the risk of being heavier and risk to have a heavier fall ... And then, what example will be that for your so , eh! You have to show him the good example after all. :-) If you like this inflatable game, the recommended age for participation is 10 to 60.
